Marks, the local commission man, who has just returned from an extended trip through the Texas fice belt, estimates that from 50 to 60 per cent of the rice in the sections he visited is still in the field and says that acarcely any of it will ever be moved. The rice that is out is so badly damaged that it will not pay for hauling.

Mr. Marks visited Houston. Bay City and Engie Lake, and found about the same condition existing all along his route. He also says that the mills in these cities have a very small sumply on hand, for they have comparatively no clean rice and but very little rough. The Texas crop promised in the early part of the season an unusualty large rield, but the fall weather destroyed this prospect.

Receipts Were Very Low.

The bad weather yesterday put a damper on the Houston rice market and the recelpts went down to a low ebb. The present situation regarding the rice crop is not finttering for the harvesting of the re-
